FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT SUPERZOO CONTENT CREATORS

What is a content creator?

A digital content creator for SuperZoo is someone who creates social media, blog or podcast content for the pet retail industry.

Who qualifies to attend as a content creator?

Social media content creators, bloggers and podcasters with the following credentials are invited to attend:

- Following: 10,000+ followers
- Audience: Engaged pet retail professionals
- Content: Quality content created for the pet retail industry and its affiliates

Can I bring someone with me as a content creator?

Each person who plans to attend will need to register individually. Due to limited space, only one person per social handle, blog or podcast will be accepted to attend except for individual circumstances. Please contact Julie Franks (jfranks@mdg.agency) to discuss further.

Why do I need to provide my reason for attending?

We ask that those attending as part of the media are covering SuperZoo from an editorial perspective. If you plan to attend for another reason, you likely fall into a different registration category. We ask this in the registration process to ensure you are getting the badge that best suits your reason for attending.

What are the posting requirements for this registration type?

- Pre event: Three feed posts
- During event: three feed posts
- All posts must tag the official show profiles:
 - Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/SuperZoo>
 - Instagram: @superzooshow
 - Twitter: @superzootweet
- Hashtag: all posts must include the official show hashtag (#SuperZoo2023)

What happens if I don't meet the posting requirements?

Please reach out to Julie Franks (jfranks@mdg.agency) if you are unable to meet the posting requirements. Failure to meet the posting requirements may result in future denial of registration under this category.

Can I sell my products or services while attending as a digital content creator?

No solicitation will be permitted under this registration type and will result in immediate removal from the Show.
